

We must nerve our hearts for the trial, with a firm reliance in God. We must plant our feet firmly with a determination to die rather than submit.

JAMES EWELL BROWN STUART

Best known for his contributions to Baseball-Almanac.com and the Pinstripe Press, author Michael Aubrecht has combined his love of Civil War history with that of faith-writing for an inspirational study of one of America's greatest icons. Christian Cavalier is an intimate portrait of Confederate Cavalry General J.E.B. Stuart and a testament to his devout service to both God and country.

Michael is a member of FaithWriters and is a contributing writer for the FLS Town & Country and Cross Times Magazine. He currently lives in Fredericksburg, Virginia, with his wife, Tracy, son, Dylan, and daughters, Madison and Kierstyn, and attends Spotsylvania Presbyterian Church.
